A collaboration between comedy performers: Sara Palomarr and Angela Legg

We first met at Roehampton University where we both studied Drama Theatre and Performance Studies - we graduated in 2014. We have collaborated many times during our many years of friendship as well as pursuing other projects individually.

Since the 2020 lockdown we have had loads of fun making silly videos together: PPE (Pintsize Play Elephant) (Aug 2020), A Dream Date (Sept 2020), Incoming Call (Oct 2020), Ha Ha Halloween (Oct 2020), The REal Deal (Jan 2021), Happy 13th Birthday Spangled Cabaret (Feb 2021).

In 2021 we are continuing to make comical videos including A Driving Lesson which will be released in March for Glasgow's Southside Fringe Plugged In & Wired festival. We have started jointly hosting events with Funny Women including monthly event Alternative Interviews.

Sara Palomarr

Sara has volunteered in the collaborating and devising process with GETINTHEBACKOFTHEVAN and DUCKIE. They were a participant at the Arts Residency of DRIFT (Rio-Brazil), with theatre company ZU-UK.

In 2018, Sara moved to Edinburgh and changed their stage name to Sara Palomarr. Since then, they performed at The Turn Vol. II run by TwentySomething at Summerhall and Nocturnal at The Old Hairdressers in Glasgow. They have also been a recurrent act at Peter Pancakes at Monkey Barrel Comedy and a special guest at Chunks, at Banshee Labyrinth.

At the end of 2019, Sara was asked to become a regional producer in Edinburgh for non-profit feminist organisation Funny Women. By 2020 they were ready to start promoting the brand in Edinburgh, but due to COVID; Sara became a Regional Producer by default in Scotland, in charge of running and hosting Alternative Interviews (alternative monthly comedy night- Digital). They also ran a free online comedy course (Intro to Comedy) for Transgender, non-binary and women; which in 2021 will start running every 3 months from March under a new name.

Sara has created a character which is the persona they normally perform as, it's called Erika. Erika describes herself as 60% horny, 40% goofy, 100% lesbian. She's dying to tell you what she thinks of society!

Angela Legg

Since 2018 she has performed regularly as a solo performer at events.

IRL event appearances (2018-2020) include at the Spangled Cabaret, Allsorts Cabaret, Nocturnal, Clusterfuck Circus, The Diversity Quota, Express Yourself, Plug In Girls, ACID!, She Grrrows and Sonnet Youth.

During lockdown she performed in online livestream events including heat 4 of NOCY2020 (The New Online Comedian of the Year), The Spangled Cabaret at home and Funny Women Alternative Interviews.

Recent projects include performing with The New Works Playhouse and preparing to host the Spoken Word section and perform in the spoken word and cabaret sections of Plugged In and Wired festival organised by Glasgow's Southside Fringe.

Angela has created a semi-autobiographical performance persona: Miss A Legg. Her performances include ridiculous rhymes, silly singing and dazzling dancing with donuts. Miss A Legg, aka the dishy donut damsel, is on a hunt for true love. It's time to let loose about her ludicrous love life. She has a little help from some badly behaved balloon boys and some sparkly red tap shoes.
